DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

The variations in the compounds of formulas I and II produce patentably distinct compounds capable of independent use.

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I.     Claims 6-14, drawn to a multiple process of preparing, classified in class 548, various subclasses.
- II.    Claims 15-30, drawn to multiple compositions containing polymers, classified in class 528, various subclasses.
- III.   Claim 31, drawn to a compound classified in class 548, subclass 257.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

These distinct inventions have acquired separate status in the art, will support separate patents, and will require different fields of search for the respective inventions. Accordingly, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is considered proper; 35 U.S.C. 121; 37 CFR 1.141; 37 CFR 1.142.

Inventions I and III are related as patentably distinct because the compounds of Group III are not produced in the process of Group I. Further, the compounds of Group III are chemically different.

Independent means the compound is capable of being utilized alone, not in combination with other compounds listed in the Markush expression; MPEP 802.01.

If the members are so diverse that they will support separate patents, i.e., a reference for one would not constitute a reference for the other, then restriction is considered proper. MPEP 2173.05(h).

Inventions I and II are unrelated. In the instant case the different inventions have separate utilities. The compounds of Group I have separate utilities as herbicides, fungicides, bactericides, corrosion inhibitors, etc. Further, claims 15-30 are restricted out, as another group, unto themselves, as they are directed to subject matter in another Group, best examinable there, and extremely burdensome to add on here.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

In the event of an election of Group II, applicants are required to elect one single disclosed composition, i.e., one specific polymer and one compound.

Should applicant(s) traverse on the ground that the species inventions identified are not patentably distinct, applicants should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the above identified species inventions to be obvious variants, or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, of traverse, if the examiner finds one of the inventions in the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103 of the other invention.

It is too burdensome for the examiner to search all of the previously noted searches in their respective, completely divergent, areas for the non-elected subject matter, as well, in the limited time provided to search one invention.

In, In re Weber, 198 USPQ 332, In re Hengehold, 169 USPQ 473, was noted for the proposition that as long as applicants have maintained the right (as they do here) to file the non-elected subject matter in divisional applications, then restriction is proper, as to that point.

Applicant may file the divisional subject matter noted in divisional applications. If applicant wishes a generic expression of the elected invention the claims here need be amended to reflect that election.

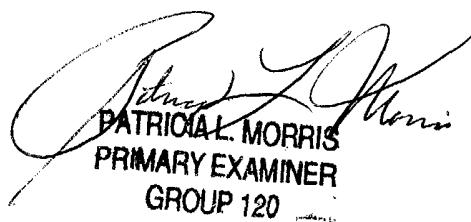

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(h).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Ms. Morris whose telephone number is (703) 308-4533.
